Comedic Rule of 3

- In the Comedic Rule of 3, point C is not a linear extension of the line established by points A and B, but goes in a different, unexpected direction, to C' instead of C.

JCAR = Laughter?

- Definitions:
 - $JCAR = (\text{Joke}) * (\text{Comedian}) * (\text{Audience}) * (\text{Reaction})$
- Laughter = Sum of all reactions of all audience members
 - Some may react well, others not.
 - Comedy is the complete process of the joke, the delivery of the joke (comedian), the reception of the individual audience member, and that individual audience member's reaction to the "joke".
